

WOW WEEKLY

Newsletter February 2015

Hey there it's Mezzy! For the most part the last month has been quiet, but things are starting to pick up again! From raiding to a beta key contest to the Design Corner, let's get right into it!

First off, for the first time ever we get to give away beta keys! We have a Heroes of the Storm beta key giveaway contest running from the 4th through the 10th of February! If you haven't seen the announcement be sure to check it over here and watch the full video for all the details.

Blackrock Foundry was released this week and as such we've released guides for each of the bosses within BRF. The original articles are based on the dungeon journal and people's beta testing experiences and they will be updated as we get footage for video guides! 4 out of the 10 guides have already been updated with more extensive explanations, the voice overs have been recorded for 2 videos and the first video has been released. So if you have yet to kill Beastlord Darmac, you can check out our Normal/Heroic raiding guide!

The fansite started with just a podcast, but as you've probably noticed the last couple of months the podcast has been more of a every other weekly thing than a weekly podcast. This is because we would like to keep having substance in the discussions. This means if there's no interesting news to talk about, we feel it's better to not say anything at all. We are recording the next podcast this afternoon (8th feb).

And then finally, the progress on the Time-Lost Halls of Karazhan for the Design Corner is slow, but it's moving along. However because of the speed, I have written a smaller article that takes a look at which improvements to the garrison are missing in 6.1. I have also put up a corresponding forum thread on the official WoW EU forums, allowing anyone to add their own constructive suggestions to the list! You can find the original article here, and you can find the forum thread here. If you have any ideas, I urge you to post it so that the feedback towards the designers is in 1 organized spot.

Every month we intend to have a preview for you from the Design Corner. For this month, here (on the next page) is your first look at the first boss in the Time-Lost Halls of Karazhan: Celeus, the ethereal hound.

Celeus, the Ethereal Hound.

If you haven't been keeping up with the website here's some of what you've been able to find there:

- Heroes of the Storm Beta Key Giveaway Contest
- Blackrock Foundry Quickstart Raiding Guides Overview
- Design Corner: Improving the Garrison in 6.1
- The Latest Podcasts

And that rounds up this month's newsletter!

As always until next time,
Mezzy from WoW Weekly